I have developed many skills after attending CAD Lab, especially my drawing and graphic designing skills. I will list what I have learned in bullet points below.

- Drawing: I am new to solid works, and this class has helped me greatly in defining my skills. One of the many things I learned was how to draw and make shapes in solid works.

- Assembly: I also learned how to combine my drawings into one amazing design, this process is called assembly.