Concept Design Report

---

Background

An upscale non-traditional house design was created in a country setting with suitable amenities. Project Camp David used Trimble Sketchup to design a presidentially posh home with engineering ingenuity and ergonomics.

Design Concept

The country feeling is created by warm, rustic color and furniture choices in a non-traditional cabin with modern updates. The house is a presidential meeting place and party house where politicians can unwind from the city hustle. Located in Florida, this house has nice weather all year and is close to The Kennedy Space Center. Walt Disney World and Universal Studios are also in the general geographical area of the state.

Components of the Project

With five rooms, one bedroom and one bathroom, the cabin is simplistic, but also spacious. There are fancy amenities such as a pool, jacuzzi, tennis courts, a putting green, a stone patio, a five piece bathroom, a formal dining room, two main living areas, a circular driveway, and a secluded setting with shrubs that surround the home.
