Concept Design Report

Background

Miley desired a house with a open floor plan, where she could get away and relax with her friends. Since she already has an extravagant house she wanted the house to be big as well, but open for more interior designing. The house was to include atleast five rooms, and at least six windows. Outside she desired a pool and a lot of open area for her to throw backyard parties. The house was also to have several trees and be surrounded by shrubs. In order to obtain these results we made a model through Sketchup, and found the look that was the most unique, and met all her criteria.

Design Concept

The house was to look pretty basic and eloquent on the front in, but the area facing the pool was to be more open and unique so that it was easy to lookout and watch the sun rise, and compliment the pool area.

The house was to be one for entertainment, and excitement, but it was to be simple on inside and not too flashy. The floors are made of warm cherry and bamboo wood. The bedroom how ever has light tan carpeting. The main theme throughout the house was wood. There is wood incorporated in every room. The walls on the two different levels are not the same. Upstairs the main color is maroon, and downstairs there are tan and blue walls. Even though the rooms are simple, it was important to have accent colors. The tan theme was continued outside of the house as well.

The house is located in Tennessee, because this is where she is from. It is the perfect way to get away from all the noise and commotion of California, and to be in a serene area. Not to mention the open land surrounding the house which means there will not be any noise complaints and neighbors close to her to intrude.

Components of the Project

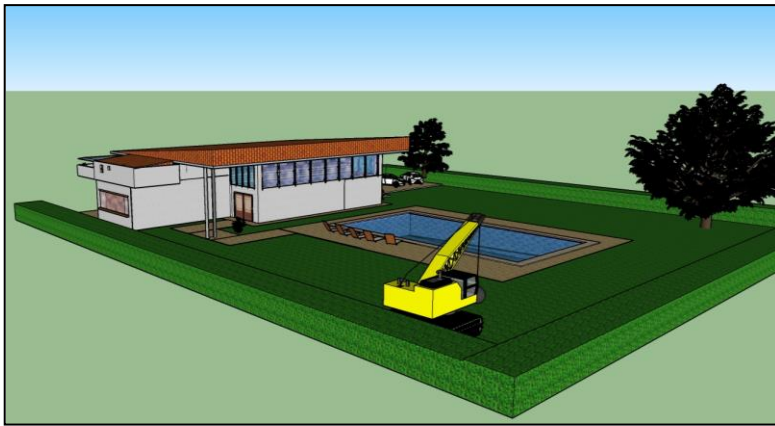

The house is to be upscale, and nontraditional, and will include

- 4-5 rooms
- Furniture
- Lawn and scaled shrubs that surround house
- Exterior patio, pool, and play area, etc.
- Three types of shrubs in the yard
- Sidewalk and driveway

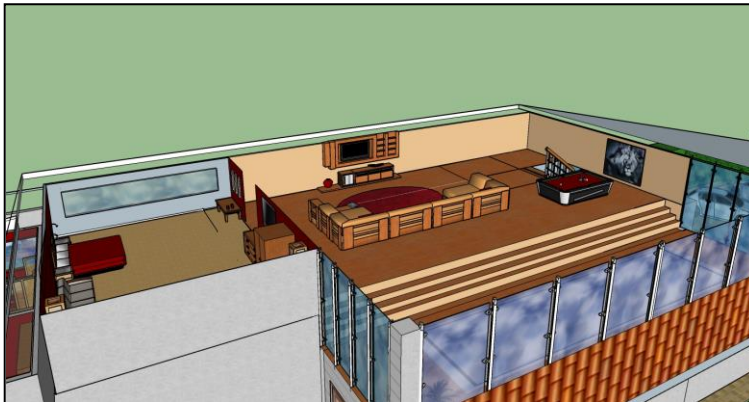

Project Description

Exterior View

Outside there is a large lawn with hedges that surround the house. There is also a crane with a wrecking ball because miley loved it in her video. There are two trees and a rose bush. The main feature of the backyard is the pool. It is an underground pool. It was important to make sure the backyard was not crowded, because she loves to throw parties, and backyard concerts. On the side of the house there is a driveway and walkway to get to the house. The roof of the house is a beautiful burnt orange wooden color to bring some life the off white exterior walls.

kitchen area

The house is two levels, and very simplistic. The house is not too flashy, and very open for redecoration. The top floor is a modern den look. With an open floor plan, and natural light, the top floor is a perfect get away spot. The main attraction is the master bathroom, which includes a closet, shower and tub, toilet, and sink. There is also a nice hot tub outside on the deck perfect to relaxing and looking up at the stars on the cool summer nights.

Downstairs includes a kitchen, washroom, laundry room, reading den, and living room. The color scheme is more blue and tan, making it very inviting and lively.
