

EDSGN Drawing

During the drawing classes we learnt how to translate isometric drawings into three view drawings and three views into isometrics. The class worked on detentions and labeling. We also learned about section views, how to read them and the rules to making them. We explored different application of these drawing techniques.

