My responsibilities as an equipment operator include making sure everyone around me and myself are safe at all times. As an operator I am responsible for the maintenance on the equipment being used. The results of this is a flawless job that looks outstanding in the end. This past summer I had to paint about two miles off fence. I was responsible to evenly coat the fence along with making sure I would not run out of paint during the day. This resulted in a beautifully painted fence that the customer absolutely loved.
