Drip Irrigation in Cameroon

Beginning at our elevated water tank, 3 meters off the ground, the water flows from a polyethylene tube (main line) into 8 individual sub-mainlines. 7 plastic T-shaped connectors and 1 L-shaped connector connect these lines. The water continues through the sub-mainlines and drip out of various holes punctured from the side onto the crops. The ends of the sub-mainlines are covered with plastic end caps.