

Running head: Child Abductions in the United States

Child Abductions in the United States: A real problem and is their any real solution.

Dustin Kennelly

Criminal Justice 441 Juvenile Justice

Dr. Carl Garver

Wednesday, April 29, 2009

After doing some research I decided on a topic that truly interests me and has effect me in my life. This topic is abduction of children ages ranging from as old as a few days to 17 and 18 years old. I will use several articles that I found during my research and pull from information I have learned from school and personal experiences. Also we will look at what the true effects of programs like the Amber Alert System have on the community and crime rates and acts.

References

- Asdigian, N., Finkelhor, D., & Hotaling, G. (1995). Varieties of Nonfamily Abduction of Children and Adolescents. Criminal Justice and Behavior, 22(3), 215-232.
- Baker, T., Burgess, A., Rabun, J., & Nahirny, C. (2002). Abductor Violence in Nonfamilial Infant Kidnapping. Journal of Interpersonal Violence, 17(11), 1218-1233.
- Griffin, T., & Miller, M. (2008). Child Abduction, Amber Alert, and Crime Control Theater. Criminal Justice Review, 33(2), 159-176.