The Stanley Cup

This is my final solidworks design project. I decided to make the Stanley Cup because I’m a huge hockey fan. I’ve been following the sport since I was about 7 years old. In my opinion there is no other sports trophy in the world like the Stanley Cup. What makes it so special is that there is only one cup. Every year, the team that won the NHL championship is awarded the cup. Each player and coach’s name is then engraved on the cup. It is expanded each decade to accommodate more names. After the hockey season is over, the winning team is allowed to keep the cup and take it where ever they go until there is a new winner the next season. That’s why NHL players give it there all. Because it’s the Cup!
