

Design Project 2

In our second design project, sponsored by GE Transportation, we were given the task of figuring out the best way to bring GE trains up to new EPA standards while keeping costs as low as possible. We used a variety of analytical methods to devise an applicable solution to a real-world problem and then worked as a team to create a professional engineering poster to display our findings.

Poster: <file:///F:/website/GE%20poster.pdf>