

Engineering Drawing

Throughout this semester, I have learned how to draw in engineering ways in multiple ways. I have learned the proper placements for Multiview drawings and how to make the proper ratio format. I have also learned how to make the isometric view from the multiview pictures. From section view, I have learned the proper angles to draw the material and which surfaces to include them on.