Summary

As a freshman at The Pennsylvania State University majoring in Business, Jason Burke is an aspiring finance major in the Smeal College of Business, plans to rush a fraternity and have a leadership role, become a member of various business clubs and play ice hockey for the Penn State club team. He is also a Penn State student American Red Cross volunteer and is Team Captain of the National Chapter of the ALS Association's Walk to Defeat ALS. He graduated Wootton High School in Rockville, MD as the captain of the Maryland State Championship ice hockey team.

Experience and Activities

As a volunteer for the Penn State American Red Cross, he is responsible for fifteen service hours per semester that includes all Red Cross events throughout the campus. He will be assisting in the coordination of student activities relating to the programs fostered by the American Red Cross. These activities include: blood services; safety and lifesaving introduction; health fairs; youth services; and other projects agreed upon by the Red Cross Club membership.

As a Team Captain of National Walk to Defeat ALS, he raises funds for patient services and research that generate $20,000.00 each year and participates in local community initiatives. Team Captains for the National Walk to Defeat ALS make their impact through community involvement, rallies and special events.

As a captain of the Wootton Varsity ice hockey team, he played an instrumental role in leading his team on and off the ice to an undefeated regular season, county, regional and state championship. Dedicated to encouraging a strong work ethic and productive team work, he demonstrated core character values of commitment, integrity, respect and passion for the game of hockey.
