I learned multiple techniques for use in Solidworks, or in any other CAD program. Below is a lamp and table project I made. It is an assembly made of many parts.
Here is an individual project I made. It is an old-school camera. It is composed of five different parts and used many techniques to create.