Old Frackville Tales

History of Frackville

Mrs. W. W. Finestone.

To the writer has been assigned the task of preparing a history of the "Frackville Slate" as a part of the "Frackville Tales." This newspaper, by having this assignment, she is able to bring into the limelight some of the personages who have contributed to the history of Frackville.

The first Frackville Paper was started by Mr. Samuel Haupt, who owned the property in 1852. He made it a very good paper, and was in a very successful condition. In 1852, he moved his family here and started the newspaper. The paper has been in existence ever since.

The land upon which Frackville now stands was owned by James E. Finestone. From him, to Samuel Haupt, and to Mr. Samuel Haupt, three changes of ownership, and the paper was established by the third owner. It has been bought and sold by different owners and now belongs to Mr. Samuel Haupt.

The people of Frackville are very proud of their newspaper, and are very satisfied with its management. The paper is published every week, and is read by all the people in the town.

The history of Frackville's best newspaper is well known to all. The idea of this newspaper was started by Mr. Samuel Haupt, and was continued by Mr. James E. Finestone, and now is carried on by Mr. Samuel Haupt.

The paper has been in existence for over 100 years, and is read by all the people in the town. It is a very good paper, and is read by all the people in the town.

The history of Frackville's best newspaper is well known to all. The idea of this newspaper was started by Mr. Samuel Haupt, and was continued by Mr. James E. Finestone, and now is carried on by Mr. Samuel Haupt.