The Hampton family have lived in Frackville for many years. Ethan and Martha Hummel were the maternal grandparents of Miss Edith Hampton. Miss Edith Hampton is now enjoying retirement in the home that has been in the family for many years.

The Hummel family have lived in Frackville for many years. Moses and Martha Hummel and children, Cara, Carrie, Charles and Irwin were listed as living on Balliet Street in the second census taken in Frackville in 1880. A sad story is recorded in history. The Hummel name was killed at the "Plague" in 1882 and 1883. Their children were still small and only a few years old. Through the efforts of Rev. T. J. Bower, Rev. Of. Boyle West, for 65 years of "perfect attendance" and travelling through every state in the United States except Alaska and has collected many trinkets to show from each place visited. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place.

Miss Edith Hampton was born in Frackville and attended the Frackville Schools. She graduated in 1910 and attended Bloomsburg State Teachers College. She taught the elementary grades in the Frackville School District for many years and travelled through every state in the United States except Alaska and has collected many trinkets to show from each place visited. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place. These spoons are displayed in her living room which is decorated with a beautiful collection of bells which she collected as she visited each place.