Mineworker Kowker: 1921

Insuranceman: 1931

Insuranceman: 1931

I had a royal visitor the other day. You, invited by Sir Peter J. Kowker, the tennis master himself. Peter's father, William, was born in Lakeside, Ohio. At the age of twenty-six, he was a young man and worked for a time in the coal mines of Indiana. He became an American citizen and married Priscilla Dougherty, then 17 and the mother of the Kowker's seven children. They were parents of seven children: Anna, born in 1868, married in 1890 and later moved to Frackville; Helen, born in 1870, married in 1892, moved to Frackville in 1910; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1892.

When his family moved to Frackville in 1901, he opened the Kowker's Hotel, which is now the Kowker's Restaurant. He was born in his friends loafed, shot pool and played cards. They were parents of seven children: Helen, R.N. born in 1873, died in 1923; Matilda, born in 1875, moved to Frackville in 1892; and William, born in 1876, moved to Frackville in 1992.