Shenandoah churches

The church, located on the corner of Oak and Lehight, United Cigar Store is located on the left. Margot Leonard's church is on the right, and the church of the Old Faithful Baptist Church is on the right.

Ringo
cow churches

In addition to the church on the right, there are a few churches located on the left.

Baptist contab ignores issue of charismatics

The issue that everyone discussed for the recent Southern Baptist Convention meeting in Norfolk, Va., was that no one could agree on the position of Baptist contab, who is often associated with the Old Faithful Baptist Church. There were various groups that had objections to the Baptist contab, which led to a lot of debate during the Convention.

Newspapers and other media outlets have commented on the Baptist contab's stance, as well as the Southern Baptist Convention. However, there is no official policy within the organization of Baptists, and the issue remains unresolved.

Lutherans reaffirm

The Lutheran church on the left has reaffirmed its commitment to traditional religious practices and teachings. The church’s position on this matter is well-known and respected within the community.

Catholic-Jewish relations reported better than ever

Christian community leaders interviewed for this report believe that everyone was more open to discussion, and that the atmosphere was better than usual. The interviewees mentioned that the Meeting for Unity last year particularly helped to bridge the gap.

Reform and Conservative officials recognize that there are differences between the two communities, but they also believe that understanding and cooperation can be achieved through dialogue.

The Renewal movement is one of those groups that has been particularly active in promoting interfaith dialogue and understanding.

Do you remember the Baptist Church of Christ? These homes are located at 152 and 114 North Street. Elizabeth Z. Garrett is on the left and Martha A. Dunn is on the right.

Old Frackville Churches

The church on the left is reported to have been in operation for many years, while the church on the right is more recent.

Lorraine Stainton

The church on the left is reported to have been in operation for many years, while the church on the right is more recent.