What I want in my life

• I hope to be happy with my life and always maintain a positive state of mind through everything.

• I have always enjoyed the company of lots of friends so I hope to maintain my friendships through the years as well as good relationships with my family.

• The basic goal I have for a career path is to be doing a job that I enjoy while also making a decent amount of money, so I can buy nice things for myself and my family.

• Ever since sixth grade I have played trumpet, so I hope that music continues to be in my life for a very long time.
Viruses

• One major way that todays society is improving is better control of viruses through vaccinations. Throughout history, there has been many times where a disease has killed hundreds of thousands of people, however those instances have all taken place before the 1950’s. Nowadays if a serious disease begins to spread, societies in developed countries can get it under control relatively quickly. One good example of this is the recent ebola outbreak, where each case of it was quickly reported and the problem was taken care of.

• We even have a government division specifically for this called the center for disease control, and you can even see current outbreaks and what they are doing to prevent them on their website: http://www.cdc.gov/

• This controlled way that we see viruses in todays society is what allows me to not have to worry about it the same way that a person in the 1700’s would, and I can focus on other things in life.
