Engineering Drawings

I learnt a lot from EDSGN 100. I learned how to draw isometric views and Multiview graphs which is impressive as it is important for every student to know how to draw these graphs. Because I will use it in the future as an engineer, I developed new techniques so to create new designs in the future.