

I also learned a lot about CAD in solidworks. I learned how to use most of the features including extrude, loft, fillet, shell, etc. I also learned how to make these independent parts and how to mate them together. For example constructing a working engine with moving parts.

