

	Pitt vs. Penn State	Alabama vs. LSU	Oklahoma vs. Nebraska	Tennessee vs. Kentucky	Tulane vs. Maryland	Michigan vs. Ohio State	Hawaii vs. San Jose St.	Ohio U. vs. Marshall U.	C. Bucks East vs. C. Bucks West	USC vs. UCLA
Dennis Gildea (67-33, 670)	Penn State	Alabama	Oklahoma	Tennessee	Tulane	Michigan	Hawaii	Ohio U.	East	USC
Glenn Sheeley (44-26, 629)	Penn State	LSU	Oklahoma	Tennessee	Maryland	Ohio State	Hawaii	Ohio U.	West	UCLA
Pat Daugherty (55-35, 611)	Penn State	Alabama	Oklahoma	Kentucky	Tulane	Ohio State	Hawaii	Ohio U.	West	UCLA
J.D. Andrews (61-39, 610)	Penn State	Alabama	Oklahoma	Tennessee	Maryland	Ohio State	San Jose St.	Ohio U.	West	UCLA
Terry Nau (54-36, 600)	Tie	Alabama	Oklahoma	Kentucky	Maryland	Ohio State	San Jose St.	Ohio U.	West	UCLA
Larry Fall (53-37, 589)	Penn State	LSU	Nebraska	Tennessee	Maryland	Ohio State	Hawaii	Ohio U.	West	UCLA
Steve Fishbein (Guest celebrity)	Penn State	Alabama	Oklahoma	Tennessee	Tulane	Ohio State	Hawaii	Ohio U.	Tie	UCLA

PCCC: Gildea out front

DALE SUMMIT — Heading into this, the last week, of regular-season competition for the Prognosticating Contest Coordinating Committee (PCCC), it looks as if defending champ Dennis Gildea has the huge PCCC trophy all to himself again.

Gildea heads the troops with a .670 correct percentage for the campaign. Rookie Glenn Sheeley is second at .629. Pat Daugherty and J.D. Andrews, two withered wizards who were atop the standings at various points earlier in the season before choking away their leads, are locked in a close battle for third. Daugherty is hitting .611 and Andrews is .610.

The big news, though, is that Terry Nau-vou is out of the cellar for the first time in many moons with a .600. In rock-bottom last is Larry Fall and his rusty computer. Fall is at .589 — the first time a regular PCCC member has ever dropped below .600, and the commissioner has indicated that he is looking for new blood in the college draft this January. Fall may be on the taxi squad next September.

Last week's guest prognosticator, Fearless Fremish of WMAJ, went the woeful way of all the wise guys who brashly dare to match minds with the PCCC veterans. Fremish was a dismal 4-6, a record which ties him with his cohort of the air waves, Tod Jeffers, for lousiest performances by a guest. But remember, guys, the words of Herodotus when he lost the fabled Battle of the Aexepheon: "If at first you don't succeed, hang it up."

This week's guest prognosticator is the Voice of Beaver Stadium, Steve Fishbein.

But if Fishbein doesn't fare so well in the PCCC, don't blame him too much. With wrestling season just around the corner, Steve finds it hard concentrating on football. In fact, don't be all that surprised if, during the course of this Saturday's game with Pitt, you hear Fishbein announce, "Takedown by Crowder!"

Rookie safety honored