Figure 1 - One quarter second segments of AP trains elicited by the application of specific reference compounds for each of the eight taste neurons that constitute the two maxillary styloconic taste receptors. The plots along the top row were recorded from the lateral sensillum while the bottom row are associated with the medial sensillum.